Action as to the Ownership of a Steamer.

A MORTGAGE SUIT.

Verdict Against the Western Union Telegraph Company.

BUSINESS IN THE OTHER COURTS.

Yesterday, in the United States District Court, in the case of Simeon Fitch and William B. Fitch, owners of a schooner, vs. the steamship Nemesiswhich was an action to recover damages alleged to have been caused to the schooner by a collision with the steamer in the Hudson River on the 13th of July, 1871, in the daytime, between the city of New York and Jersey City-Judge Blatchford dismissed the libel, with costs. R. D. Benedict for the libellants; J. W. Gerard for the claimants.

A suit has been commened in the United States District Court by the government against Emil Heinmann, Francis Payson and George H. Morgan to recover $6,096 87 in gold, alleged to be a palance due for duties on imported goods.

Ex-Attorney General Hoar, of Massachusetts, who was one of the counsel for the plaintiff in the case of George Washington Bowen vs. Nelson Chase, now known as the Jumel suit, has brought ar action in Rhode Island against Bowen to recover $5,000, balance of his professional fee. During the last few days Commissioner Stillwell has been taking testimony in this city in regard to the claim set up in this action.

Police Commissioner Charlick gave ball yesterday, before Judge Davis, of the Supreme Court, to answer the indictments found against him by the Grand Jury of the Court of General Sessions. There were four indictments, and the ball required was $1,000 on each indicament.

SUPREME COURT-SPECIAL TERM. Careless Way of Giving a Mortgage.

Beiore Judge Donohue. David Dinkelspiel et al. vs. Mary Ann Franklin .- This was an action to foreclose a mortgage for $6,000 which plaintiffs held, assignees having purchased the same of one J. Windle, defendant's prother, through a broker in the real estate market. The defence was that defendant did not know what she was about when she signed the mortgage, and her brother or somebody else got the money. In rebuttal of this it was claimed that the defendant knew ail about it and had sent to assignee's lawyer a certificate that the mortgage was a good and valid one, and would be paid. On this certificate the plantials bought the mortgage, bir, Gerard, for plantials, moved to strike out the defence and for judgment, as no knowledge of any invalidity had been brought hom: to plaintiffs, and on the ground that the defendant was estopped by her certificate. Decision was reserved. The case was still on. Messrs. Levinger and Gerard for plainting, Mr. D. Field for defendant.

brought a suit against C. K. Garrison to recover $12,000. The plaintiffs allege that in August, 1866, Mr. Garrison sold to them the steamer George Leary, promising to deliver ner in fifteen days, free of all incumbrance. That after the sale the Raltimore, Pittspurg and Norick Railroad Company brought a suit against Mr. Garrison, obtained pany brought a suit against Mr. Garrison, obtained a loreign attachment and levied on the steamer, and that after obtaining judgment in that suit, Mr. Garrison, in 1884, instituted proceedings against them to loreclose the lien in the attachment case and that they were made to pay $2,000. The defense charges that the Virgina Court failed to obtain jurisdiction in the case by the attachment, that the adjudication afterwards was corumnon multic and that this to the steamer had passed to the plaintiff before the lien was obtained. MARINE COURT-PART 1. Verdict Against The Western Union Telegraph Company.

Beiore Judge McAdam. H. B. Claffin et al vs. the Western Union Telegraph Company .- On June 6, 1872, an employé of the plaintiffs wrote and handed to the person in charge of the branch office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in plaintiff's store, a despatch to be sent to one of their salesmen, then travelling in Wisconsin, worded as jollows:-"Atlantic P twelve D twelve half one half off trade." In the transmission of the despatch the D was changed to A, and in consequence the salesman, after inquiring at the office in Portage City of the operator quiring at the office in Portage City of the operator if A were correct, sold 20 bales of A sheeting, being the best quality, at 124 cents per yard, the price at the time being two cents higher, making a loss to plaintiffs of $500, for which, with interest, this suit is Drought to recover. The detendants do not deny that an error was made, but claim that under the printed conditions on their despatch blank they are exempted from liability, both because this was a cypher message and that it was not repeated. They further claim that the mistake was so patent on its face, such goods not having been so low for years, that it was gross neeligence on the part of the salesman to have disposed of them at that price, without further communication with his principals. The Court Chirgest the jury, that if A were telegraphed for D by defendant's mistake, it was presumptive evidence of negligence, unless it were shown that done of negligence, unless it were shown that proper care was exercised in the trans-rision of the message, but that they must be satisfied that planning and their agents were entirely free from negligence before there could be a recovery. Verdict for piainting for $342. For piainting, Arnoux, Ritch & Woodford; for defendants, Porter, Lowrey & Soren.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS. Burglaries and Larcenies.

Before Recorder Hackett. In this Court yesterday Thomas Kudell was conwicted of an attempt to commit grand larceny from the person in the night time, the evidence showing that on the 30th of May he was caught in the act of stealing a gold watch and chain from John Schroder while passing through Fourteenth street. His Honor, in passing sentence, said he was informed the prisoner was a professional thief, and sent him to the State Prison for five years.

Louisa Kohler pleaded guilty to an indictment charging her with stealing $76 from the drawer of

Prison for two years and sent him to the State Prison for two years and six months.

The same sentence was passed upon James Fitzsimmons, who pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary in the third degree, in having on the night of the 21th of May, broken into the premises
No. 333 East Thirty-fourth street, and stolen a copper boiler, worth $60, owned by Henry G. Coggershall.

copper boiler, worth $60. owned by Henry G. Coggershall.

Henry Kindregan and Richard Toben were convicted of stealing $11 75 from Thomas Slatterly on the 26th of May. As there were mitigating circumstances, the Recorder did not impose a severe pensimment. He sent Kindregan to the State Prison for eighteen months, and Toben one year, he having furnished satisfactory proof that he was a hard working man.

The jury failed to agree upon a verdict in the case of Granville Ely, who was tried upon a charge of stealing a watch and chain from Gurdon S. Coit, the steward of the steamer Elm City, on the 4th of November, 1872. Ely was remanded to prison.

TOMBS POLICE COURT.

A Notorious House Cleared. Before Judge Wandell.

The night before last Officer Fitch, of the Fourth precinct, cleared out one of the lowest dens in the Fourth ward. No. 394 Water street has long been regarded as one of the foulest holes in the great city-the resort of the lowest criminals, great city—the resort of the lowest criminals, where vile women and river thieves of the most desperate character congregate. Inside it is thoroughly honeycombed, so that its labyrinths were an enigma to the police. Once within its wails a murderer or a thief was as saie as he could be in the forest. In the early days of New York, when Water street was comparatively respectable, a murder was committed in this house, a Tapscott sailor killing a domestic of the family then in occupation. Later on, during the first stages of the street's decadence, this house was the scene of a brutal and sanguinary fight between a party of Portuguese and Italian sailors. After that bloody night there were three men missing, and it was supposed at the time that they were murdered and their bodies sunk in the river during the night. Others held that they were secreted in the sewer, but neither party could verify its theory, for the bodies never came to light.

From that time until the present the house has been marked as an evil spot, and has always been frequented only by the vilest characters in the Fourta and bloody Sixth wards. Captain Ulman has had several men on that post during the last year, but none of them had energy enough to clean the place out. Officer Patrick Fitch was the last man detailed for duty there, and that he has done his work was evident at the Tombs Police Court yesterday morning, when he arranged the occupants of the house, twenty-four in number, before Judge Wandell, who commended him for his efficiency. The prisoners were William and Johanna Mack, the proprietor and his wie, with seventeen girls and five men, who were all committed for examination. where vile women and river thieves of the mos

ESSEX MARKET POLICE COURT. Robbed in the Street.

Before Judge Bixby. George Hesse, of No. 140 Hester street, while reposing quietly on the stoop of his residence, was approached by John Keyser, aged nineteen, native of Geneva, Switzerland, who took ir m his native of Geneva, Switzerland, who took it in his left vest pocket a watch and chain, valued in all at $6.50. Keyser was arrested by Officer Kreamer, of the Tenth precinct, and on being arraigned before Justice Bixby, at Essex Market, pleaded guilty. It being a case of larceny from the person he was committed by His Honor, n default of $2,000 bail, for trial at the General Sessions.

FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET POLICE COURT. Robbed on Fifth Avenue.

Before Judge Smith. On Thursday evening, as Louisa McEaston, of Fifty-eighth street and Ninth avenue, was passing up Fifth avenue, a young man robbed her of her pocketbook, couraining $16, and ran off with it. Thomas Young, of No. 48 Essex street, was subsequently arrested and identified as the thief by the lady. He was committed for trial.

Defying the Police.

Louis Bramson, the proprietor of the restaurant northeast corner of Fourteenth street and Third avenue, who was held for trial at the Court of avenue, who was held for trial at the Court of Oyer and Terminer on a charge of violating the Excise law, was again arraigned yesterday on a similar charge. He gave buil to answer. Judge Smith said he regretted that the law did not allow him to call for a bail bond of more than $100 in an offence of this nature, otherwise he would certainly do it in this case; out he hoped that the police of the Eighteenth precinct would be prepared to offer such evidence at the trial as would be sufficient to convict the accused and break up the place.

Alleged Embezzlement by a Clerk A young man, named Charles H. Bancrott, was arraigned on a charge of embezzlement preferred by his employers, Taylor & Son, Frewers. of No. 334 Green wich street. The complainants allege that Bancroft collected from William Doolling, a customer of the house, a bill of $20 and made no return of the money. They further allege that Bancroft has in this manner swindied them of about $209. Bancroft admits taking the money of Dooling, as alleged, but claims that he expended it in furthering the interests of Messrs. Taylor & Son. He described himself as a native of Ohio, aged twenty-lour years, and gave his residence as No. 257 West Fourteenth street. He was committed for trial in default of $1,000 bail. by his employers, Taylor & Son, brewers, of No. An Alleged Forger and His Confederate

Mr. Julius Koenig, tobacconist, of No. 369 Third avenue, yesterday made affidavit to the following facts :- On Thursday afternoon be was visited at his piate of business by two young Germans—Edward Hauschild, with whom he was slightly acquainted, and wno introduced his companion as Julius Lesser Mendelsolin. Mendelsolin, a well known and wealthy Berlin banker. He hadjust returned from China, via San Francisco, and had in his possession bonds and other securities amounting to $190,009. He desired to purchase a quantity of tobacco. The goods were selected and amounted to $345. In payment Mondelsolin presented a cleek upon the Importers and Traders' National Bank for $403, drawn to the order of Mendelsolin and purporting to be signed by Mr. Max Stadler, merchant, of No. 184 Church street. Mr. Koenig declined to receive it, but was induced to place of business by two young Germans-Edward Statuer, mercant, of No. 184 Church St. eef. Mr Koenig declined to receive it, but was induced to accept it as security for a loan of $23. The parties not returning at the appointed time, Mr. Koenig tork the check to the bank, where it was pro-nounced a forgery, and a very bungling one a officer Waters, of the Eighteenth precinct. Onlicer Waters, of the Eighteenth precinct, yesterday attention succeeded in arresting both Hauschild and Mennelsohn, and arraigned them before Justice Smith, by whom each was committed in default of $1,000 bail. In Mendelsohn's possession were found four other cheeks, each for $1,000, and one for $500, all purporting to be signed by Mr. Stadler and all forgeries, as testified to by the last named gentleman. Hauschild described himself as an agent by occupation, twenty-four years of age, residing at No. 353 Third avenue, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Mendelsohn said he was a residing at No. 353 Third avenue, and pleaded not guitty to the charge. Mendelsonn said he was a physician by profession, aged thirty-eight years, and gave same residence. He claims that he purchased the checks of a person who represented himself as Mr. Stadler. The prisoners will be taken to the Central Office to-day and photographed. Other complaints, it is said, will be made against them.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

EXTRAORDINARY OYER AND TERMINER. The Indicted Charity Commissioners.

Before Judge Daniels and Associates.

The trial of the indicted Commissioners of Charities was resumed yesterday morning. The forenoon and part of the afternoon was devoted by the prosecution to the introduction of testimony, showing that the Commissioners had paid larger prices for articles for the county institutions than were demanded in the market.

The most important part of the proceedings was the argument of Mr. Tracy, one of the counsel for the defence, that the law under which the Commissioners were inducted had been repealed. Mr. Tracy contended that there was no saving clause in the repealing act. The duty of advertising for proposals for supplies had been taken from them and vested in the Supervisors, who were made responsible.

and vested in the Supervisors, who were made responsible.

District Attorney Winslow held that the act referred to being entitled "An act to amend an act," it did not take away the responsionity of the Board of Commissioners of Charity, although delegating a portion of their powers to the Board of Supervisors; and turkner, that the new law contained a provision covering one of the offences for which the Commissioners now on trial were indicted.

Mr. Fracy read the points of the act.

Mr. Winslow replied there was nothing inconsistent in the present act to prevent a conviction under the reported law; and quoted instances of the United States Internal Revenue laws in support of his position.

one United States internal fevenue laws in sup-port of his position.

Indge Daniels said he understood the indictment o have been found on the general statute of the state. It was well established in the practice of he State that no conviction could be had under i epecaced law. He thought it would be well to go on with the case, and he would look into the mat-wounded John Cunningham, on a Van Brunt street car last Thursday evening. The wounded man, who is thirty-two years of age, has a wife and two children, who are in constant attendance on him at the Long Island College Hospital. Hg is not expected to recover. MASONIC.

Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York-Fourth Day.

The Grand Lodge resumed labor at nine o'clock A. M. The Grand Architect of the Universe was addressed by the R. W. and Rev. John G. Webster. A motion was made by W. Bro. Thomas Pat-terson to appropriate $1,500 to R. W. George H. Raymond, for his services as Grand Lecturer during the past year. Referred to Finance Commit-

W. Louis J. Belloni, Jr., from the Committee on Exemplification of the Work, reported that the committee had witnessed the exemplification of the third degree, and found that the R. W. George H. Raymond was fully in possession of the standard work. The report thus concludes :-

Your committee, with an earnest desire that the work of the subordinate lodges in this jurisdiction should be in accordance with the standard adopted by this Grand Lodge, bed to state that they rear the resolution adopted by the Grand Lodge at this session would destroy that office, as it would, in their opinion, be impossible to obtain the services of a competent instructor who would give his time to that work depending upon the fees to be paid by the lodges which might need his services.

Lodge might direct. The resolution of Thursday made no provision for any salary, but simply directed subordinate lodges to pay a stated sum when such lodges employed him, which might never be the case.

A resolution was ultimately proposed and sent to the Finance Committee, appropriating $1,000 as extra travelling expenses for the Grand Lecturer for the ensuing year. A motion to lay the resolution on the table was, in the meantime, lost.

R. W. James W. Husted, from the Committee on Warrants, reported, recommending that warrants be granted to fitteen lodges U. D. and to seven whose warrants had been destroyed by fire. The following are the new lodges:—Fellowship, Renschaer Hall; Allemaina, Brooklyn; Fordham, New York city; Lincola, New York city; Noah, Knownsville; Sanctorium, Brooklyn; Maiononides, Shakespeare and Naphthalia, New York city; Social Friendship, New Baitimore; Justice, New York city; Pentalpha, New York city; La Universal, Brooklyn; Stuyvesant, New York city.

The Standing Committee on Constitution and Statutes reported, through M. W. James Gibson, Sveral amendments thereto, but failed to report against the most obnoxious section of the statutes (42), which reads thus:—

An unaffliated Mason shall not be allowed to visit any lodge or ioin in a Masonic procession not receive Medical content of the statutes of the proof of the procession not receive Medical content of the statutes of the procession not receive Medical content of the statutes of the procession not receive Medical content of the statutes of the procession not receive Medical content of the statutes of the proof of the procession not receive Medical content of the statutes of the proof of t

W. T. Patterson asked if any action had been taken upon the above section. M. W. Brother Gibson replied that the section had been approved of by the committee. The W. Brother then offered a resolution, which would make the section read as follows:— An unaffliated Mason shall not be allowed to visit a lodge more than once, nor shall be receive Masonie burish.

Referred to the committee.
An amendment providing that a dispensation to form a new lodge in any city cannot be given without the consent of a majority of all the lodges in such city was adopted. As there are about 150 lodges in this city this will virtually have the effect of preventing any new lodges being formed for some time, as it will require the consent of at least seventy-six lodges, which would cause considerable walking to the parties seeking for such consent.

Afternoon Session.

The Grand Master called the craft from refreshment to labor at two o'clock.

An amendment to allow no Masonic labor to be done on Sunday, except the burial of a Mason, was adopted; also an amendment which makes section 46 of the statutes read thus:

A lodge sha'l have the power to enact a bylaw which shall provide a penalty for the non-payment of lodge dues, which penalty shall be unaffiliation: but such penalty shall not be inflicted except for the non payment of at least two years' dues nor until the brother shall have been duly sammosed thirty days previous to pay said two years' dues, or show cause why he should not be adjudged an unaffiliate for such non-asyment. If within said time he shall show that through indigence he is not ablit to pay the ame and support his tamily no penalty such unaffiliated brother may be resting lodge. Any such unaffiliated brother may be resting lodge. Any such unaffiliated brother may be resting lodge. Any the amount due at the time of such unaffiliation.

An amendment was also passed allowing unaffiliates to be received without fee.

W. Brother Louis J. Beiloni, Jr., gave notice that next year he would move to strike out section 42 of the statutes as above printed in regard to unaffiliated Masons.

The committee disapproved of the resolution.

W. Brother Beilon moved that the report be not agreed to, as scarcely was the link dry which wrote the above the content of the committee of the content of the content of the committee of the content of the committee of the content of the committee of the resolution.

R. W. Wilham T. Woodruff said that the M. W. P. G. M. Orr, of South Carolina, was not buried by the Grand Lodge. Honors were paid to him, it was true, but he was buried in South Carolina.

W. Brother Belioni—There was a funeral procession. Where is the difference? All luneral honors were paid to the remains.

Strange that such difference should be 'Twixt tweedledum and tweedledee. The W. Brother withdrew his motion by unanimous consent.

W. Brotner E. M. L. Ehlers moved that the word "enfower" be stricken out and the word "entitled" inserted instead of the obnoxious section of the statutes.

W. Brother Ira Chase moved that the section be amended so as to read:—

An unaffinated Mason shall not be entitled to visit any lodge more than twice, or Join in a masonic procession, or be entitled to receive Masonic burial.

M. W. James Gibson would accept an amendment like the following:—"One who shall remain an unaffiliated Mason in this jurisdiction for one year or more shall not be allowed to visit a Masonic lodge or Join in a Masonic procession, nor be entitled to receive Masonic relief or burial."

W. Brother Emmanuel Lowenstein, of Eastern Star Lodge No. 27, was willing to accept the amendment. He found, in his experience, that those who did not pay their dues were really rien men. The poorer men of his lodge were those who always paid their ques. (Applause.)

R. W. William T. Woodruff was also in favor of the amendment. He knew an unaffiliated Mason who had attended a lodge night after night until he came to be considered almost a member, and yet this man was really a merchant millionnaire and was well able to pay dues, but did not.

A number of amendments were proposed and rejected, and at length M. W. James Gibson reported his amendment, as above, which was carried.

The report of the committee was then adopted. The M. W. Joseph D. Evans, from the special Committee on Distinguished Masons beceased, reported that nothing could be added in relation to these breturen to what was so well expressed in the able address of the Grand Master. The report was received and adopted.

The Committee on Hall and Asylum Fund reported that the building had progressed and was nearly completed and offered a resolution providing for the postponement of the dedication of the same until such time as the temporary floating debt should be inquiated.

M. W. Stephen H. Johnson trusted that the resolution would not pass. He thought the mater

THE CUBAN MATTER.

The Grand Master said that it had been mentioned to him that his remarks on the Cuban circular in his address were not received in good spirit, and were meant to reflect on the Deputy Grand Master. He totally denied that such was the case. He and the Deputy Grand Master were on the best of terms for the last two years; they had differed as men would do on various subjects, but were still friends. After two years of hard labor he now hoped that the generous support of the Grand Lodge would be given to his successor. The brethren saw that Grand Masters were liable to error like other men, and when the Grand Lodge differed from their Grand Master he trusted that they would give the latter the benefit of the doubt.

that they would give the latter the benefit of the doubt.

M. W. Stephen H. Johnson said that it was he who called the attention of the Grand Master to the matter. His own name, as well as that of R. W. Brother Thorne had been put to that circular without their knowledge or consent. Had ne been consulted in the matter be would never have countenanced it, and he was glad the Grand Master had declared that he did not mean to censore Brother Thorne. He trusted that the address would be so altered before being spread before the public as to show that the Grand Master elect was totally inflocent of having signed his name to any such document.

Yesterday atternoon a bloody and a horrible tragedy in all its details took place near this city, resulting in the assassination and instant death of a well-known cotton planter by the name of William D. Mitchell.

MITCHELL A FEDERAL SOLDIER FROM INDIANA.
When Wilson's raid captured Mason then Wilson's raid captured Macon, in the sum-oi 1865, Mitchell was in it, and a member of Fourth Indiana cavalry. While this raid war mer of 1865, Mitchell was in it, and a member of the Fourth Indiana cavairy. White this raid was in the city the news was received of the truce signed by Sherman and Joinstoin in Norta Carolina, and in a few weeks thereafter the whole command was disbanded, the majority of the men going back home in a body, but not a few remaining, especially those who either had bad records or actual true bills against them at home. Among those remaining was Mitchell, who subsequently bought a piece of land in the adjoining county of Twiggs, and commenced planting cotton. A man of great energy, he prospered, and about two years ago married a very respectable widowed lady of the county, Mrs. Ray.

In his neighborhood lived Dr. John Bull, an excellent citizen, a man who had a large practice and who was the inther of several grown up children, among them one or two daughters. Mitchell, before and after his marriage, frequently visited the family. He was a man who sometimes got drupk at public places, and about one year ago, while drinking, openity boasted that he had SEDUCED DR. BULL'S DAUGHTER.

The Doctor, of course, heard of this, and he and his sou, George M., Immediately mounted their horses and rode over to Mitchell's house for the purpose of killing him. When they met him the purport of their business was immediately made known. Mitchell vehemently asserted that what purpose of killing him. When they met him the purport of their business was immediately made known. Mitchell vehemently asserted that what he had said was true, but that the young woman irrely consented, as he could prove by letters and notes then in his possession. Dr. Buil demanded the notes and letters, when Mitchell toid him he had the day previously thrown them into a dry well on the place, but would immediately go and get them out. He started off for the well, leaving his visitors at the house, who waited for several hours for his return, but not doing so they knew that this was a ruse to get away from them.

several nours for his return, but not doing so they knew that this was a rose to get away from them.

Mitchell left the State and went to Virginia, where he remained for many months. Dr. Bul, not caring to keep his family in a neighborhood where so much scandal nad been raised about his daughter, moved to Macon. Some one then wrote Mitchell that he had lett, the matter died out, and that he could return with salety. He did so. This was nearly one year ago. So soon as he got back. Dr. Bull sent him a verbal message that he would kill him on sight. Mitchell, knowing that he was not a man to make such a threat as that without intending it. kept away from Macon until yesterday, and never moved about the plantation or neighborhood without being heavily armed with a snot-gun and a revolver.

A country man by the name of Wall induced him to accompany him here for the purpose of getting him to indorse his draft at the cotton warehouse of Saulsbury, Respuss & Co. There being some delay in getting the draft fixed, Mitchell walked to the store of I. J. Traywick & Co., on Third street. While standing in the door he saw Dr. Bull approaching, and, knowing his object, rapidiy retreated to the rear office. The Doctor came to the door and looked into the store and then went to Mitchell's mule and examined it closely. Mitchell eliuded him, got on his mule and rode out of town to a little straggling village called Cross Keys, where he had leit his shot gun on his way to town that morning. Wall, about noon, sent for him to return and sign the draft. He did so, and about one o'clock Wall and Mitchell started home. It is supposed that Dr. Bull and his son left the city soon after Mitchell did the first time. Any how, they were seen to cross the bridge, and, turning to the left just beyond, disappeared in the woods, both armed with double-barrelled shot guns.

turning to the left just beyond, disappeared in the woods, both armed with double-barrelled shot guns.

THE ASSASSINATION.

When Wall and Mitchell got to Cross Keys the latter got cout his shot gun, when both rode on when they had reached a point two miles from the city proper, and where the road is flanked on either side with a gauiberry copse of wood, so dense in thickness that a rabbit could not go through, and while Wall was a few paces to the rear of Mitchell, a gun was suddenly fired from the thicket, quickly followed by the second discharge. At the first shot Mitchell receid in his saddle, and while in the act of falling out of it the second charge struck him. He fell to the ground dead. At a subsequent examination of the body it was found that six buck snot had taken effectiour through the head and two through the body.

ARREST OF THE EULLS.

Mr. Wall immediately galloped back to East Macon and told what had taken place. The Coroner, accompanied by three or four policemen, immediately started for the ground, where an inquest was held.

The jury found opposite the body, which still lay in the road, a narrow path ireship out through the thicket, a few yards long. Wall stated on examination that when the gun was fired he saw a man at the head of the path he thought was George M. Bull. He was not positive that it was him.

The body was brought back to Macon, shrouded and coffined, and this morning taken to Twiggs county for burial.

Warrants were at a late hour resterday afternoon issued for Pr. Bull and his son, and last night Policemen Simpson and Foster went to the residence, on Third street, and found the family at supper, with them in their usual places at the table. They were arrested at once and taken to Juli.

table. They were arrested at once and taken to jail.

The excitement in the city was very high when the assassination was first told and a great deal of indignation expressed against Dr. Buil. But when it became known what Mitchell was killed for nobody expressed any sympathy for him, some renearking that while he ought to have been killed, he perhaps ought to have been given a better chance.

SOMEBODY'S FUNERAL.

General Bristow at the head of the Treasury Department means death to the little cliques or rings inside that branch of the government. The chief clerk of the department, who has been traveiling in Europe at government expense for over a year, will be granted permission, like that given Mr. Pickwick, to travel hereafter at his own expense. The chief of an equally important branch will be recalled from Europe, and the $2,000 a year paid to lavorite clerks in addition to their own salaries of $2,500 and $3,000 per annum will be discontinued.

ALL ABOUT TWO POSTAGE STAMPS.

The following incident, narrated by a correspondent as happening in Little Rock, illustrates at once the good and bad side of Southern character:-

A gentleman who was a stranger in Little Rock A gentieman who was a stranger in Little Rock went to the desk of one of the hotels and asked if he could buy a postage stamp. The cierk replied that he had none, whereupon a bystander took out his pocketbook and graciously handed the gentleman a number of stamps, telling him to help nimself. The stranger took two of them, and, thanking the renlieman for his kindness, handed back the remainder of the stamps and six cehts pay for those he had taken. But the pennies had scarcely been placed in the hands of the other when he flung them on the floor, and exciaimed violently, "If you were not a damned tool, sir, you would know that an Arkansian does not peddle postage stamps." No apologies would be accepted, and the trate man walked out of the hotel muttering about his offended honor.
